Notes:

- (1) Under publications we understand scientific journals, yearbooks, reviews, bulletins and official regularly written communications from the associations of psychomotor education/therapy.
- (2) Finland and the Czech Republic do not have a specific journal of psychomotor therapy but they have connections with other associations to publish their articles.
- (3) Articles concerning psychomotor development/education/therapy are also published in other (inter-) national journals in the field of psychological, pedagogical and rehabilitation sciences [see (5)]
- (4) The term “scientific” in the column means that the content is more than only information. The articles are however not all peer- reviewed.
- (5) Non specific journals: these journals are not covered by an association recognized by the EFP. They are mentioned because the content lays into our field.
